PLAINS BOYS WIN OUTSTANDING RECOGNITION AT CAMP CHEHAW

Billy and Ross Oliver, of Boy Scout Troop No. 25, Plains, Ga., were members of the Ross Moss Patrol, shown above, which won outstanding recognition and passed more tests than any other patrol at the Chehaw area camp, near Albany, so far during the present camping season. Billy Oliver was patrol leader of the outstanding patrol. The two Plains boys have been in the camp three weeks. The camp has been filled to capacity this week, and, according to Scout Executive W. Y. Compton, who was in Americus Friday, it will be forced to operate another week, its fifth, to accommodate all the Scouts of the council who want to attend the camp.
