BOY SCOUT DEPARTMENT

The Herald runs each Monday for the different troops of the Boy Scouts in Albany this department, which is conducted by the Scout scribes and others connected with the organization... Copy for this department should be in The Herald office by Friday afternoon and will not be accepted after Saturday noon.

SCOUT MEETING IS HELD AT MOULTRIE

On Saturday evening the 8th, Deputy National Field Executive C. E. Carmack and District Executive W. M. Bagby met with a number of representative men of Moultrie.

This gathering met at 8 o'clock in the directors' room of the Y. M. C. A. with B. Y. Chambers, general manager of the Consolidated Telephone and Telegraph Company presiding.

The men present were: F. R. Pidcock, M. L. Lee, James Humphreys, Dr. B. W. Brannen, Ben Van Delsen, Mr. Daugherty, Y. M. C. A. Secretary, B. Y. Chambers, and Mr. Heisler, a Methodist minister.

The Georgia Plan of Boy Scout

Knight passed the test at the meeting the week before.

While these boys were taking their examinations, our assistant scoutmaster, Mr. McNeill, took the other boys who were not ready for examinations and gave them some instructions in how to become a tenderfoot.

After the examination, the meeting was brought to a close by the organization of two patrols, the Fox patrol No. 1 and the Wolf patrol No. 2. In the Fox patrol, Edward Knight is patrol leader; Louis Peacock, assistant, and Jack Bierman, Lannis Rouse, Lamar Jackson, LeRoy Whidby, Shirley Jarvis and Dan Davis, members. In the Wolf patrol, Robert Riley is patrol leader; George Moseley, assistant, Albert Saxon, Claude Carter, Julian Reynolds, Oliver Benson, Raymond Gunnels and Thomas Ventulett, members.

Work was presented by C. E. Carmack and W. M. Bagby, Jr., gave a brief survey of what had been accomplished in the Second Congressional District.

Every man present expressed himself on the work and a resolution was unanimously passed that the district plan of work be backed up in Moultrie.

In a few days the District Executive, W. M. Bagby, Jr., will go to Moultrie and begin the organization of troops.

Another meeting was held at 3 o'clock on the 9th, which in addition to the above local men being present, John Hall, Sr., and W. J. Vereen were also present. The purpose of this second meeting was to perfect the local organization, that is get men to assist B. Y. Chambers, who is the Colquitt county chairman, in doing the preparatory work.

TROOP NO. 1

By HERBERT CARTER.

Scout Scribe.

The boys of Troop No. 1 (formerly Troop No. 4) had their regular meeting in the carriers' restroom of The Gerald building Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The boys who had not stood their tenderfoot test at previous meetings had their tests at this one and all but four passed, and these four had not had a chance to study for it.

After the test the boys were divided into two patrols, with eight large boys in Patrol No. 1 and eight small boys in Patrol No. 2. The boys in Patrol No. 2 selected the name "Beaver," and Scoutmaster Frank Stanford selected Charles McClure as patrol leader and Charles selected Ray Fouché as his assistant. The boys in Patrol No. 1 selected "Flying Eagle" as the name of their patrol. The scoutmaster chose Mayo Livingston as patrol leader and Mayo selected James Green as his assistant.

The scoutmaster then taught the international or continental Morse code down through "f" and showed them how wigwag signalling is done, using the code. Next Thursday all of the boys expect to become tender-

TROOP NO. 4

GEORGE JOHNSON, SCOUT SCRIBE.

Troop No. 4 held its first meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night at 7:30. The meeting was poorly attended, there being only seven scouts present, though eighteen are enrolled. This was due to a misunderstanding about the date of the meeting, very few of the scouts knowing it.

They were very fortunate in securing Henry Sparks for scoutmaster and Lester Holt and W. D. Sumter for assistants. All three are experienced in all the different branches of scout work and success in that department is assured. The troop committee is composed of C. M. Richmond, E. M. Mooney and H. L. Tallman.

The scout master and both assistants were present at the meeting, the former being in charge. First, Mr. Sumter gave us a talk on what a scout stands for and scout work in general. He stressed the idea that you must go into it whole heartedly. He also touched on the competitive drills in woodcraft, first-aid, signalling, etc., which would take place between the different Albany troops.

After that we had a general discussion. Owing to the small number present, no permanent decisions could be made as to time of meeting, patrol leaders, equipment or any other matter that would have to be settled by a majority vote.

Then the question of a scribe was taken up, George Johnson being elected.

It was decided that the title of senior patrol leader should go to the first boy to qualify as a first-class scout. That will take real work, but will be well worth it to the lucky boy.

The question as to who should be admitted to the troop was taken up but could not be decided upon until more were present. The troop though is to be composed mostly of older high school boys, but the membership is not limited to students.

After a few words on clean living by the scout master, we adjourned.

The scoutmaster then taught the international or continental Morse code down through "f" and showed them how wig-wag signalling is done, using the code. Next Thursday all of the boys expect to become tenderfoots and to learn six more letters of the code.

The full membership of sixteen scouts was present. Scoutmaster Frank Stanford and Assistant Scoutmaster Wilbur Cherry had charge of the meeting.

TROOP NO. 2

By IRVING HELLER
Acting Scout Scribe.

The meeting was called to order by the Scoutmaster and the roll call was read.

Miron Prisant passed his tenderfoot test, and instructions were given to the troop concerning the second-class test.

The troop made preparations for going on an eight-mile hike Sunday, January 9, out the Newton road.

All boys who are 12 years old or over and have not joined any troop yet are cordially invited to attend the meeting Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, January 16 at the Synagogue.

more were present. The troop though is to be composed mostly of older high school boys, but the membership is not limited to students.

After a few words on clean living by the scout master, we adjourned.

The next meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, when we hope to have a full troop present.

TROOP NO. 5

BY LEWIS McCLURE

Scout Scribe

Troop No. 5 of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches met in the Baraca room of the Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

We opened with two games, a crab race and skunk tag, which are very good games.

We enroled two new members, Gordon Meriwether and Coleman Woodall.

The following scouts stood the tenderfoot examinations: Philip von Weller, Thomas Mitchell, Mercer Sherman and Sterling Gay.

Next Thursday we will take up signalling and first-aid bandaging.

We cordially invite all scouts and those interested in scout work to visit.

TROOP NO. 3

EDWARD WRIGHT.
Scout Scribe.

By EDWARD KNIGHT,
Scout Scribe.

The scouts of Troop No. 3 met at the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Our meeting opened with the registration of five new members, which brings the total to thirty members.

We went out on the sidewalk and played some games, the skunk tag and the crab race. After about twenty-five minutes of game-playing, we went inside the church and got down hard at work.

Ten boys passed the tenderfoot test at this meeting. They are: Albert Saxon, Seminal Scott, George Moseley, Jack Bierman, Julian Reynolds, Lannis Rouse, LeRoy Whidby, Oliver Benson, Raymond Gunnells and Robert Riley. Claude Carter and Edward us at our meetings.

TROOP NO. 6

By JESSE DANN,
Scout Scribe.

The boys of Troop No. 6 met at the Methodist church at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

We then marched over to the East Albany Methodist church, where we were to give some demonstrations in the tenderfoot degree. Fred Sumter recited the scout oath; Walton Key repeated the scout laws; Durward Greene tied nine knots, which you have to do to become a tenderfoot; Wallace Greene demonstrated the scout sign and salute; Aaron Tomlin and Jesse Dann demonstrated the scout handclasp.

We then marched back to the church, as some of the boys were going to stand their tenderfoot tests. The following passed the test successfully: George Wood Sparks; Har-

Boy Scout Honor Roll Gets Two Interesting Additions

CAMILLA SCOUTS EARN NICE SUM

Send in $110 for Support of Movement In Nochaway
Council — Local Ku Klux
Klan Sends in $25 — List
Open Only Few Days More.

Publication of the Nochaway Council Boy Scout Honor Roll will be discontinued in a very few days,
the Honor Roll committee announced today. It is urged that all who desire to contribute to this cause do so at once, so that the list can be closed up.

The Honor Roll is increased today
by two contributions, one of $110
from the Boy Scout troop at Camilla, and one of $25 by Al-Do-Ga Klan,
No. 75, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The contribution from the Camilla Boy Scouts was money they earned for this purpose. It is against the Scout laws for Scouts to solicit subscriptions, and so they went to work and earned this money.

The contribution from the Ku Klux Klan was received in an unsigned letter, on the stationery of the Albany klan. Enclosed was a cashier's check for $25.

Boy Scouts Repair Old Toys For Christmas Gifts to Poor

The collecting and repairing of toys which will be given at Christmas time to poor boys and girls is occupying the spare time of Boy Scouts throughout the nation this year. The work is being carried on under the leadership of Boy Scout Councils in many cities and as individual troop projects in other localities.

RUSH WORK.

The first two Scout toy shops to begin work this year, according to notices sent to the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America, in New York City, are located at Mount Vernon, N. Y., and at Omaha, Neb. Within a week after the first two toy shops started functioning more than a score of councils reported the beginning of activities and it is estimated that by Christmas time, nearly five hundred toy repair shops, improvised in vacant stores and the cellars of Boy Scout homes, will be turning out rebuilt toys for the poor children of the nation.

By a poster and circular campaign, people are requested to donate broken toys to the Scouts for later distribution to the city's poor in each of the cities where the toy shops are in operation. When many toys have been collected, they are distributed to Scouts who have talent in the type of work required. Scout painters decorate the houses and the toys, some artistic Scouts give their time in the work of repainting the faces of dolls, while still others manufacture new arms, legs and bodies for toy animals and dolls.

Dust From the Scout Trails

The winner of first place in the contest for books for the library at the hospital will be known before this article goes to print. It is with regret that we say no mention can possibly be made to the holder of first place, and the possessor of the week's pass to the Albany Theatre, until next week.

However, this ending of the contest, which came into effect at 6 o'clock Monday night, should not be an ending in the gathering of books for the library at the Phoebe Putney Memorial Hospital. We are starting things—that's true. But we are going to continue our work on this project and present a library to the patients of the hospital which we can justly be proud to claim as our own. It is believed that we will have enough books to offer the library if we will work unceasingly for another week. It is also true that the public will, from time to time, make contributions to our library themselves, without the extra effort of passing them through our hands for disposition. We, too, can continue to make additions long after the contest has been closed. But, that is not what we are looking forward to at present. The old saying, "There's no time like the present," could not be better applied than in this very instance of which we have been thinking. We want to do this thing now. We want to sacrifice an afternoon or ture. For the information of those Scouts desirous of passing tests, it would be a quite helpful hint to say that a little work and study on these requirements now would lessen the amount of work which would be needed to make a last-minute preparation before going before the court.

TOYS DONATED.

In previous years, in every city where the toy shops of the Boy Scouts were operated, the community took a real interest in the work and provided the Scouts with enough toys to keep them busy every day for more than a month preceding Christmas. The toys will be distributed on Christmas Eve by the Scouts to children in the charity wards of hospitals and institutions and also to a group of poor children whose plight has been brought to the attention of the Scouts by the charity organizations of the respective cities.

Likewise, the Scouts in this city should make it a point to gather old toys and rework them for Christmas presents for the poor. Little do the people know of the actual happiness which could be brought to children in Albany if toys were presented to them, even though they be second-hand. It would take but little work to gather and rework a good stock of toys.

Why not let this be a troop enterprise, or possibly have the different patrols in each troop compete with each other? Who will be the first to start?

have enough books to offer the library if we will work unceasingly for another week. It is also true that the public will, from time to time, make contributions to our library themselves, without the extra effort of passing them through our hands for disposition. We, too, can continue to make additions long after the contest has been closed. But, that is not what we are looking forward to at present. The old saying, "There's no time like the present," could not be better applied than in this very instance of which we have been thinking. We want to do this thing now. We want to sacrifice an afternoon or two (if you call it a sacrifice) and give our whole-hearted co-operation in gathering these books. We have gone too far into this thing for us to fall down.

Through the courtesy of Gordon E. Reynolds, of the Reynolds Brothers Lumber Company, we have been given enough lumber with which to build our own bookshelves. The work will be done by scouts at the Albany High School in their new manual training department. Mr. Reynolds promised the local Scouts as much lumber as was needed for this work we are doing, and also said that we could have as much lumber for other work as we needed.

Thirty-seven new merit badge pamphlets have been received by headquarters in the last few days. This makes a full stock of pamphlets for the council. Many of these pamphlets have been a little revised, the same as has been done in many of the test requirements. Scouts wishing to obtain these new pamphlets can get them by calling at headquarters between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Preparations are under way at present to hold a Court of Honor session some time in the near fu-

Those on West Street Nearly All Have Work Done.
Social News.

BAINBRIDGE, Dec. 6. -- Miss Anne Carr left Saturday night for Banner Elk, N. C., where she will take the chair of history in Lees-McRae Institute in the vacancy caused by the illness of the teacher. Miss Carr spent Sunday in Savannah with her, A. S. Carr, and brother, W. B. Carr, who were in the city for the day.

Miss Jennie Moye and Miss Pauline Norwood spent Sunday in Canandaigua.

Friends of C. Lee Ward will regret to learn of his sickness. Mr. Ward is confined to his home on Evans Street.

Mrs. R. Y. Howell, little daughter, Billy Bob, Mrs. M. B. Baggs and Mrs. E. J. Perry left Monday morning by automobile for Atlanta. Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Baggs will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Forrester while in the city.

Homes on West Street are nearly all undergoing some kind of improvement. One of the most outstanding is that of the Dickenson home, which is being remodeled. The home is one of the old and quaint places here, and the retouching is going to make it most attractive. Mr. C. T. Dickenson and his interesting daughter, Miss Gene Dickenson, occupy the home and under the direction of Miss Dickenson the interior has been redecorated throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Tennille and little son have moved into their pretty new bungalow on West Street.

J. B. L. Barber is having his home and grounds all touched up. The yard is being filled in, incident to
